MISSION To obtain a challenging position that will push my graphic design, marketing and business skills while working in a creative environment for a dynamic employer.

EXPERIENCE

Freelance Graphic Design 11/06 – Present

Vermont Air National Guard Webmaster 3/07 – Present

Martha Rainville for Congress Designer 11/05 – 11/06
Created identity, stationary, print collateral, and website. Developed theme and visual strategy for the campaign. Assisted and advised E-commerce solutions. Continually revised web site with new content using Cascading Style Sheets (CSS), HTML, and Flash.

Vermont National Guard Webmaster 1/05 – 11/06
Created the recruiting/informational web site using a highly graphical appearance. I managed several key aspects including art direction, planning, graphics, template design, maintenance, HTML/CSS coding and Flash movies. The template design was then used for the entire VT Guard to follow. The site supported more than a dozen offices with specific web needs.

Green Mountain Guard & Desert Star Magazines 8/05 – 9/05
Distributed monthly to over 5,000 readers, I redesigned the Green Mountain Guard magazine creating a more readable and modern look. Designed and directed two Desert Star magazines in an Egyptian training event. Creative production included photography direction, photo color correction, layout, logo design, and flexible grid structure.

Department of Homeland Security (DHS) 1/02 – 3/05
Conceptualized the redesign of the Eastern Regional Office (ERO) web site template which services more than 30 internal offices. Lead web site coordinator for the Information Services Branch (ISB). Assisted offices with web-based classes for design, layout, graphics and usability.

AWARDS & RECOGNITION

DHS Non-Monetary Award to acknowledge the creative, professional, and timely work done to create the Eastern Regional Office intranet web site.

Was noted in the Post-30, a nationwide Public Affairs review publication, from the Green Mountain Guard magazine and both covers from the Desert Star magazines
